

Academic Integrity Violations: The UC San Diego Response

At UC San Diego, we respond to academic integrity violations with two goals: 1) to educate our students in matters of personal and professional integrity and ethics and 2) to provide consequences for violating the UC San Diego Policy on Integrity of Scholarship. We believe that the majority of students will respond to this two pronged approach in a way that serves to create an academic integrity culture on campus.

The most critical community response to student cheating is reporting it to the Academic Integrity Office. If students are NOT reported, there will be no education and there will be no record of behaviors that could be replicated from class to class throughout a student's degree.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY VIOLATION	SANCTIONS
We have categorized academic integrity violations into four levels, provided here with an illustrative, but not exhaustive, list of behaviors:	The list of sanctions here are likely in the average situation; however our trained professionals do exercise professional judgment and consider context when ultimately deciding on the most appropriate sanctions.

CATEGORY ONE VIOLATIONS

Policy violations are characterized as Level One when it is reasonable to conclude that the student's behavior was a result of inexperience with academic integrity principles and policies (e.g., a first quarter student) and when the violation was minor or occurred on an assignment that was worth a small portion of the student's course grade.

For example, but not only:

- Scholarly negligence – an incorrectly executed citation in an otherwise properly cited paper
- Copying one answer on a small homework assignment
- Engaging in collaboration on an assignment when it would be reasonable to conclude that the rules weren't clear

Students are likely to:

- receive an official Warning/Censure;
- have a disciplinary record created (which can be checked by professional and graduate schools, as well as some employers);
- be mandated to attend an educational workshop on proper citation and attribution;
- write a reflection paper on the incident; and/or
- be assigned an academic sanction (to be calculated into the final grade) at the discretion of the Instructor (the grade cannot be replaced by retaking the class)

CATEGORY TWO VIOLATIONS Policy violations are characterized as Level Two when the actions are dishonest in character and/or impact a more significant amount of the assignment or course grade For example, but not only: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assignment misconduct/homework misconduct <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ copying homework, assignment or labs from others</li> <li>○ collaborating with others on an independent assignment when an instructor was explicit about guidelines for completing the assignment</li> <li>○ submitting a portion of the same material in more than one course without prior authorization providing another student with one’s own assignment, paper, exam or quiz</li> <li>○ signing in another student for class attendance/participation marks</li> <li>○ making lab data available to a student who did not attend the lab/contribute to the development of the data</li> </ul> </li>   <li>• Plagiarism - limited copying and pasting from secondary sources without citation</li>   <li>• Exam misconduct <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ possession or provision of unauthorized aids (e.g., cheat sheets, cell phones, class notes) when it cannot be determined if used</li> <li>○ “panic” copying of one answer from another student during an exam or quiz</li> <li>○ allowing another student to copy (limited) during an exam or quiz</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	Students are likely to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• be placed on disciplinary probation;</li> <li>• have a disciplinary record created (which can be checked by professional and graduate schools, as well as some employers);</li> <li>• be mandated to attend an Academic Integrity Seminar ($75.00 fee) or some other educational workshop;</li> <li>• write a reflection paper on the incident; and/or</li> <li>• receive an academic sanction at the discretion of the Instructor (the grade cannot be replaced by retaking the class)</li> </ul>
CATEGORY THREE VIOLATIONS Policy violations are characterized as Level Three when the actions are more flagrantly dishonest in character and/or impact a major or essential portion of the course work and/or involves planning and deliberation For example, but not only: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assignment misconduct/homework misconduct <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ copying a significant portion of or an entire assignment</li> <li>○ splitting up independent assignments with others and copying parts from each other</li> <li>○ providing another student with an assignment/homework when provision</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	Students are likely to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• be suspended for a quarter or longer with a notation on their transcript of “suspended for academic dishonesty”;</li> <li>• be placed on disciplinary probation;</li> <li>• have a disciplinary record created (which can be checked by professional and graduate schools, as well as some employers);</li> <li>• be mandated to attend an Academic Integrity Seminar ($75.00 fee) or some other educational workshop;</li> </ul>

CATEGORY FOUR VIOLATIONS

Policy violations are characterized as flagrantly dishonest and serious breaches of professional and personal integrity.

For example, but not only:

- any second violation of the Policy, especially those after a student has already been suspended
- any level violation committed by a graduate student
- Fraud
  - taking exam for another person (or vice versa)
  - stealing or fraudulently obtaining answers, or an advance copy of an exam
  - changing/helping to change any recorded assignment or course grade on instructor or university record
  - submitting an entire paper or assignment written by another person
  - replacing name on another’s assignment and handing it in as one’s own
  - forging documentation, e.g., medical or government document.
  - selling or distributing previously administered/taken exams, papers and other assignments

Students are likely to:

- be suspended for at least 1 year or dismissed with a notation on their transcript of “suspended for academic dishonesty”;
- be placed on disciplinary probation;
- have a disciplinary record created (which can be checked by professional and graduate schools, as well as some employers);
- be mandated to attend an Academic Integrity Seminar ($75.00 fee) or some other educational workshop;
- write a reflective paper on the incident; and/or
- receive an academic sanction at the discretion of the Instructor (the grade cannot be replaced by retaking the class)
